Levee Across Key Route Basin Completed and Accepted by Officials

Work of Reclaiming 400 Acres of Tide Lands Behind Big Wall to Be Begun

Completion of the work of clarkshell dredging to construct the solid level or wall-bulkhead across the Key Route basin, between the Southern Pacific and Key Route piers, was reported to the city council this morn ing, when a resolution was presented by Commissioner Harry S. Anderson accepting the work from the California Reclamation company.

The work has been done under contract and has cost the city $194,440.-

The resolution of acceptance, passed by the council on the motion of Com-missioner of Public Works Anderson

"Resolved, That the work done by the California Reclamation company, under the terms of its contract with the City of Oakland, dated March 16, 1911, has been completed, and the same is hereby accepted."

INITIAL STEP.

The work has been under way for about seven months. In the development of the Key Route harbor the construction of a levee was the initial step toward the building of the wharves, docks, and the reclamation of 400 acres of tide lands for the use of the city on the waterfront.

STATE PRINTER SHANNON HAS RESIGNED OFFICE

Governor Johnson Receives Today Formal Letter of Resignation From Official Recently Under Investigation

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10.-State Printer W. W. Shannon tendered his esignation to Governor Johnson this morning

Shannon's office was recently investigated, when the Board of Control reported that the office was overstocked in the matter of material and that prices in excess of the market ruling had been paid for various supplies. Immediately following the investigation Shannon suffered a nervous collapse and was for a time a patient at a private sanitarium.

The appointment of his successor rests with the Governor and it is rumored that Friend William Richardson of Berkeley, who was a candidate for the office of State Printer at the last election, may be given the billet.

Shannon's resignation followed stration, but did little shooting, and short conference with Governor John there were few casaulties. The main son in the office of the governor, Friend W. Richardson, editor of the Berkeley Gazette, is said to be strongest in line for the job, with George Radcliffe, superintendent of the capitol, a close second.

"So far as I personally am concerned, the investigation into the state printer's office is closed," said Governor Johnson.

ANGRY LITIGANT ATTEMPTS LIFE OF J. J. TRABUCCO

Charles Adler, Worsted in Suit, Draws Revolver on Well-Known Jurist

Exciting Affray in Corridor at Adjournment of the Court; Threats to Kill

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco of Mariposa county was attacked with a foaded revolver by Charles Adler of the Union Electric Company, the losing litigant in a suit in his court, just as he left the courtroom shortly before 12:30 this Adler, who had been nursing a grievance against him, had been pacing up and down the corridor and as his honor emerged attempt ed to strike him. Clerk M. B. Burton intervened and took up the fight. As the judge approached to aid Burton, Adler drew his revolver and tried to level it at the jurist. Edward Hart, a stenographer, and a number of citizens who were passing, restrained Adler and took the weapon from him. As several of his friends led him away he cried: "I'll get another gun and come back and shoot you

The Court Had Adjourned

Court had just adjourned and in the first excitement it was given out that the assault had been made in the courtroom, but the bailiff had already left with the records and there was no police officer in attendance to arrest Adler.

The trouble is the culmination of ill-feeling on the part of Adler against the judge by reason of an affidavit sworn to by the latter in some litigation in which the judgment went against him. Adler originally brought suit against Hansborough Brothers for an electric bill of $1467. The court decided in favor of the defendant and later, when the case was appealed, the court made an affidavit in which he stated that at one time he was inclined to give judgment to Adlen removal of for $325, because he thought he was somewhat simple-minded and scaused the of an emotional disposition.

> Detective Sergeant Thomas Murphy was detailed by Captain of Detectives Wall to be on hand and insure the keeping of peace during the afternoon session.

Detectives Arrest Adler

True to his word, Adler was on hand at the Grant building shorty before 2 o'clock this afternoon when Judge Trabucco returned from lunch. He entered the elevator just after the jurist who motioned to Detectives Murphy and McCuarde, who were standing near. The officers promptly took him into custody and he was rushed to the office of Captain of Detectives Wall, where he began a long recital of his troubles.

Adler admitted to Captain of Detectives Wall that he had gone to the Grant building with the intention of shooting the judge and that he had purposed to hang himself if he had succeeded in shooting the jurist through the heart. He was ordered taken to the city prison and was charged with assault to murder. Adler rehearsed his grievance against the judge, declaring that Trabucco had reversed himself in deciding against him.

Insurance Man Held

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10 .- August B. Burling, local insurance man charged with attempt to murder for shooting Wil-liam Kemp, a chauffeur, on September 26, was held to answer to the superior 26, was held to answer to the superior court despite his victim's protest this morning. Kemp said that he didn't want to prosecute, that his' $360 hospital expenses had been paid by brother chaufeurs, who made up a purse for him, and that he had no ill feeling against Burling. Notwithstanding this fact, Judge Sullivan listened to the evidence. Rodney Newman testified that Burling had taken a shot at him which, however, had missed. The defendant was held in $20,000, bond.

Dog May Bite if For Attempt at Murder Tail Is Stepped On

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 10 .- A dog has a right to bite a man who steps on the dog's tail.
This, in effect, is the ruling made by Judge J. T. Ronald today when he found for the defendant in a suit involving a claim for $4500 damages for a dog bite. It appeared from the testimony that the dog sank his teeth in Samuel Lavanburg's left leg only after Lavanburg stepped on his tail. In addition, there was no show-"Spot," a well-groomed setter, occupied a prominent position in a corner of the court room and sided in the defense by allowing people to walk around him without offering to bite.

-No Place Like Mosbacher's for Value—FREDERICKS WOULD END AN OVERNIGHT DISPUTE 'OUT OF COURT'

'Era of Good Feeling' Broken in the McNamraa Case; Progresses Fast

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—After protracted system of choosing a jury bout three days of life, "the era of and favored expediting matters good feeling" in the McNamara murder trial proved too much of a strain opposing counsel and ended ply today, with Attorney Clar-S. Darrow, for the defense, accusing District Attorney J. D. Fredericks of unfairness, and Fredericks suggesting that they could settle this question outside the courtroom.

The collision seemed not to impede the progress of the trial, and A. Grublin, a retired harnessmaker, was accepted as to cause by both sides. Byron Lisk, H. F. M. Green and Robert Bain, the three sworn jurors, found court proceedings more interesting than card games in the lury. esting than card games in the Jury room and remained in the jury box when Judge Walter Bordwell offered to excuse them. Bruster C. Kenyon, J. B. Sexton and Clark McLain, the other three accepted talesmen, also sat in the box.

IN OTIS' EMPLOY.

John T. Wilson, superintendent of a big land company in which General Harrison Gray Otis, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, and his son-in-law, Harry Chandler, are heavy stockholders, brought about the clash between Darrow and Fredericks.

the trial, is under nineteen indict-ments for murder in connection with the deaths caused by the Times explosion and fire a year ago, and Dar-row protested that Wilson could not be a fair and impartial juror in such case, and especially since Chandler is under subpoena as a witness in it.
"I don't think that's ground for challenge," Fredericks said and Darrow broke forth:

NOT CHALLENGING.

"We are not challenging," he said. The man is manifestly unfit. The district attorney in fairness cannot desire to keep him."
Wilson presently was excused and Fredericks, then took up Darrow's charges.

"I object to charges of unfairness," said District Attorney Fredericks.

"I am sorry Mr. Darrow made them," soothed Judge Bordwell. "I believed them then and I be-lieved them now, your honor," said Darrow, and Fredericks suggested that the affair could be settled out of

PROGRESS IS FAST.

Erstwhile predictions that a jury o try James B. McNamara, indicted. to try James B. McNamara, indicted for fatallities resulting from the explosion of the Times building here, would not be selected for at least six weeks or more seemed extravagant today, the surprising progress of the last two days in examining talesmen giving rise to the belief that a panel might be obtained in much quicker time.

With three sworn jurors, three talesmen passed for cause and a new venire of forty on hand today, attorneys on beth sides were optimistic as to the possibilities of soon gathering in a panel of twelve unbiased and onen-mided jurors. The tedious proopen-minded jurors. The tedious process of examinations, comprising at present questions so similar that counsel have been struggling with a variety of synonyms, has had a wearlsome effect on the principals in the case, and now, without objection the attorneys are heading for essential points, frequently heedless even of laying foundations such as earlier

It is understood that the wife went to the office of her attorney, Frank-lin K. Bull, and signed the divorce papers, which were to be placed on the secret flies. A reconciliation, however, has smoothed over all difficulties and this morning the couple went to Bull's office, where the matter was adjusted, the divorce proceedings stopped and it was agreed that Phipps would surrender himself on a charge of disturbing the peace, made by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dowd.

Last night the couple were together in the Phipps home at 2427 Clay street, where the young wife was shielding her spouse from the inquiring police, which sought to serve a warrant upon him.

A conspicuous absence of tilts between counsel has been noticeable and once during an examination of a talesman who evinced a desire not to serve on the jury and slowly disqualified himself by his expressed views on the infliction of the death penalty in capital cases, District Attorney Fredericks and Attorney Darrow exchanged knowing smiles across the table. Immediately following this, also, Attorney Darrow suntered over to the prosecuting attorney and laughingly usual hour because so many venire-men had excuses to offer against possible juror service. Important Political Changes Expected From Tuesday's Election Results.

MAY RENEW ATTEMPT TO SEPARATE THE BRONX

Victory of G. O. P. Puts End to the Hope of Passing New State Charter.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- The revival of Republican power in the State and the city at Tuesday's elections is expected to make important political changes in New York City. Since the returns indicated that Tammany Hall's strength has been restricted practically to the one borough of Manhattan, its opponents are planning actively in the others. One of the first steps toward this end may be the renewal of the attempt to make a separate county of the Bronx. 'Give Voters Chance to Express Presidential Preference at Primary."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Walter L. Houser, chairman of the pro-gressive Republican campaign com-nittee, has appealed through circular letter to the chairman of every Republican state committee in the United States, urging that steps be taken to insure a Republican Presidential primary in each state—by law in the five states where it is provided for by statute, and in other states by direction of the campaign committees.

In his letter, Chairman Houser calls attention to the resolution adopted at a conference of progressive Republicans in Chicago last month favoring such primaries for candidates for President and Vice-President, and urging state committees to publican state committee in the United dent, and urging state committes to provide that the people be given the right to express their choice for President before the national convention.

"The demand for popular selection of candidates for office," says Chairman Houser, "both state and national has become general. It is obvious that no nominee selected despite the wishes of the rank and file of the Republican party can inspire the confidence or command the united and enthusiastic support which will be so necessary to Republican success in

Mr. Houser stated in the letter, which was mailed also to the gov-ernor, lieutenant-governor and the speaker of the lower house in each state, that the friends of Senator La Follette are ready to submit his name for nomination to a direct vote of the rank and file of the party.

AND PAST HOLD

College Spirit Permeates All U. of C. Men On Eve of the Big Game.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, NOV 10.—The superlative pitch of football en thusiasm was reached by faculty and students at the fortnightly university meeting this morning in Harmon gymn asium, the last large gathering on the campus before the big game tomorrow The assemblage, which was devoted to football forecasts of the coming contest and reminiscences of former struggles by alumni speakers, followed a rally in the same building last night, when college spirit strove for adequate expression, and when ever words failed, was given vent in yells and band music.

Today's sunshine, aurguring well for football weather tomorrow, together with confidence in the fifteen players selected by Coach Schaeffer to carry the blue and gold colors to victory, gave abundant cause for joyousness on the campus on the last day before the great contest. Where-ever a half dozen students met on street-cars, on the sidewalk or on their way to classrooms this morning leather lungs emitted strident "Oskis." It is apparently all over except the for-mality of going through the game, if one takes the word of the Berkeley gridiron fan. More than half the battle has been won, say these enthusiasts, in the train-ing and picking of a team from wimning material, backed by the confidence of the entire student body.

MEN ON METTLE.

Coach Schaeffer, at last night's rally, indicated what might or ought to be done to the player who evidences the slightest streak of yellow showing through the blue and gold. He swore roundly just by way of emphasis, and there wasn't a rugbylte among the fifteen who sat near the platform who wouldn't have given he rebyt among the fifteen who sat near the platform who wouldn't have given his right

There was some repression, but no diminution of feeling when the women students were added to the men in an even larger gathering in the symnasium at 11 o'clock this morning. It was just another rally, under more dignified aus-nices. President Wheeler precided selplices. President Wheeler presided, following his return from a swing around the state with Regent James K. Moffitt, starting löye feasts in hill and valley towns where there are already alumni clubs or where they should be.

The president, who is spoken of by the yell-leader as "Our Fresident," told of the enthusiasm which he had found among the graduates from San Francisco to San the graduates from San Francisco to San DiegoDiego over the prospects of a third successive victory for California. It was apparently a propitious time for a visit intended to revive love of aima mater, for the head of the State University found the old "grads" thinking not only of football, but of the general life of their college.

TELL OF TRIUMPHS.

Ezra: Decoto, the Oakland attorney, and a former, graduate manager, was one of the speakers today. He told of his experiences in managing athletic affairs between 1901 and 1906, inclusive, when California won two games, lost three and played one draw.

Robert W. Sibley, a graduate of the class of 1903, and John R. Gabbert, a graduate, of 1907, were other speakers. Both expressed assurance that a team has been chosen and shaped to even up a score which has been gradually becoming less one-sided.

President Wheeler succeeded in convincing every one that there could be only one result of Saturday's game, inspiring both players and rooters with an impressive story of the Olympian games at Athens several years ago.

When Coach Schaeffer took the platform the cheering continued for two minutes. He spoke in his usual terse manner, saying that the team would en-1107 BROADWAY, CAKLAND Between 12th and 13th Streets, Over Sunset Grocery.

In 1903 and 1904 I was a terrible sufferer for about five months with kidney and bladder trouble. I could not sleep nights. One doctor said I was going into consumption and gave me up to die. Had two other doctors, but received no help from either of them and am sure I would have been in my grave had I not seen your advertisement in the "Marinette Dally Eagle Star." After taking several bottles of Dr. Kilmen's Swamp-Root I was entirely cured.

In the last two years I have been a railroad fireman and have passed two examinations for my kidneys successfully, so that I know that my kidneys are in excellent condition now as a result of your great preparation.

Reversal of Form.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- Governor Dix. on his way from his vacation camp-in the Adirondacks, made his first statement here regarding the Republican victory in the New York state election.

"I hardly understand what caused the turnover in politics this year," he said. "It seems to be quite general, prevailing in other states than this. It all goes to show the independence of the voters of our country. Of course, I was sur-prised at the results. Despite the ad-verse legislature, I shall endeavor to carry out the principles of the Demo-cratio platform."

This decision is equivalent to saying that Estelle Alexander of California, a music hall singer, former Princess Robert de Broglie, is not the mother of her own child.

Thus, Princess Jasmonde, who is seven years old, has a father, but not a mother.

seven years old, has a father, but not a mother.

In the eyes of the French law the decision annuls the former Princess Estelle Alexander de Broglie's recognition of her own child, as requested by her former husband. Prince Robert de Broglie, who recognized the baby as his on July 2, 1904, eight days after its lirth and before the divorce of Estelle Alexander from Sydney B. Veit, her first husband.

This recognition of the prince still holds good. Little Jasmonde, though legally deprived of a mother, remains a princess in the great house of De Broglie.

gally deprived of a mother, remains a princess in the great house of De Brogile.

Estelle Alexander arrived in Paris yesterday. She declared nature's law higher than the code of Napoleon and said she had engaged a lawyer to take the case to the highest court.

She threatened to "knock the stuffin" out of all the De Brogiles in France if her maternity of the child was not admitted.

The former Princess Estelle is now Mme. Maritza, wife of a music hall singer of Rome.

CAREER FIT FOR DUMAS.

The matrimonial experiences of the former Princess de Brogile, who was divorced from her titled husband on the ground of desertion in 1909, form a serial story that reads like the romancing of Dumas pere.

Since she left her home in Sonoma county to study in Paris for the stage, Estelle Alexander, which was the maiden her keleidoscopic career.

She was married first to Sydney Velt, a wealthy Prussian, just as she was nout to make her debut as a singer. While she fell.

Her marriage with Veit did not turn out happilly.

While she was still his wife she fell in love with Prince Robert de Broglie, with whom she eloped to Italy. The object of this elopement, she afterward explained was to force her husband to obtain a divorce. Veit did so.

After she became the wife of the prince she started on a tour of the world with him.

The prince was disinherited by his angry parents. The De Broglies then began a professional theatrical carrier, the prince leading orchestras in the theaters where the princess sans.

The birth-of-their child and the struggle they had for existence were matters that received much publicity before the princess applied for her divorce.

COURT GIVES HER CHILD.

COURT GIVES HER CHILD.

According to the divorce decree awarded the princess in Paris, she got the custody of the child and $60 a month alimony, her husband being ordered to pay the cost of the sult.

Prince Amarde Broglie, father of Prince Robert, always opposed his haughter-in-law. In an effort to overcome his opposition the prince went through a second marriage ceremony in Chicago in 1906 several years after the first ceremony had been performed in Milan, Italy.

When Prince Robert and his princess returned to Paris they discovered thathis father had had the French courts set aside the Chicago wedding on the ground that the prince's divorce from a former wife had not been officially approved and because the American wedding had not been recorded in France.

KOHLER & CHASE KOHLER & CHASE CO-OPERATIVE CO-OPERATIVE PIANO & PLAYER-PIANO PIANO & PLAYER-PIANO The Co-Operative Bonus Plan still further lessens the prices

Today we tell you all about the $350 Piano sold to club members for $277.50

These Co-Operative Club Pianos are worth fully $350, yet by the power of this huge Co-Operative purchase the Kohler & Chase Co-Operative Club price is $277.50.

These instruments have been sold in San Francisco and Alameda Counties for years and years at $350. Hundreds are being sold every month all over the United States at $350, because they are fully worth $350. They will be sold at $350 again the moment this great Co-Operative purchase is exhausted.

The Kohler & Chase Co-Operative Club price is $277.50. That price includes everything. There are no extras of any kind-nothing to be added for drayage, freight, stool-absolutely no extrasno interest for one year.

You don't even have to pay a penny extra for the insurance feature, whereby, in the event of a club member dying before his contract is complete a receipt in full is sent to his family, removing every risk.

JOIN

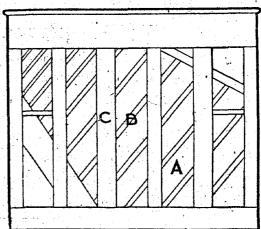

PER MONTH. FOR ONE YEAR

The terms are easy—$5 cash when you join, then $6 per month.

The piano is delivered immediately. You do not have to wait until the Co-Operative Club is filled. You get your piano when you join—the moment you pay the $5—the remainder ($272:50) is payable monthly—$6 per month. Club members do not have to pay more than $6 per month. This gives them fortysix months to complete the payments for their piano, and still get it at the Co-Operative Club Price of $277.50.

Every instrument is guaranteed outright. There are no "ifs" or "buts." It is just a straightforward guarantee, as firm as we know how to make it.

The Co-operative Club prices can not be increased, but they can be materially lessened by taking advantage of the Club Bonus.

Every time a member makes an extra payment a bonus of up to 20 per cent is earned and immediately credited to that member's account.

THE $375 UPRIGHT PIANO is an artistic piano of the very highest musical merit—modern down to the minutest detail. It is in mahogany, walnut and oak. It is a celebrated make, used and indorsed by the leading pianists and singers. It is a piano that is selling daily all over the land for $475. The Co-Operative price is $375.

THE BABY GRAND is a make of international reputation—a household word among musicians—the culmination of 50 years' experience. It retails regularly at $750. But by making this very large Co-Operative purchase and placing the order months ahead, this beautiful Baby Grand is sold to Co-Operative Club Members at $585. THE PLAYER-PIANO is designed and built by the most experienced player-piano organization in the world—an organization that controls 300 patents. Here again, by making one of the largest player-piano purchases ever made, instead of paying the regular price of $600, it is sold to Co-Operative Club Members only for $485.

$500,000 WILL

STOCKTON, Nov. 10.—In the trial of S. B. Axtell, charged with slaying Charles Sollars at Lodi last June, bitterness, between the prosecution and the defense was engendered this morning when the latter hinted that Sollars might have recovered had he not been subjected to an operation.

Following; the statement of Dr. T. M. Nelson that Sollars succumbed to surgical shock, searching questions as to the fatality of abdominal wounds were propounded to Dr. William Friedberger, who assisted in the operation of Sollars, by Axtell's counsel, "Is it not a fact," he was asked, that in the Spanish-American war 37½ per cent of the soldiers shot in the abdomen recovered—without an operation?"

The prosecution objected and was sustained. Special Prosecutor Nutter declared that the point raised by the defense with respect to surgical shock was immaterial, the law being sound on the point and making a man who inflicted a wound on another responsible if the victim died within a year and a day afterward.

A sick stomach is responsible for not only rheumatism and kidney ailments, but nearly every other disease. When the stomach is digesting its food properly the liver and bowels do their duty, the nerves are fed with good, rich blood and the whole system is stimulated, strengthened and energized.

Prof. Munyon claims that his remedies will eliminate these little parasites and will correct nearly every form of stomach, liver and nerve trouble. He says the worst obstacle he has to overcome is doubt. For people have spent so much money drugging themselves with all sorts of nostrums that they have little faith in anything new that is offered. "I

In many cases, Prof. Munyon says, all medicines can be discarded after the first ten days. In rheumatic troubles his remedies neutralize the uric acid so quickly that a complete cure is generally made in a few hours. Sharp, shooting pains, swoilen limbs and stiff joints, lame back disappear as if by magic. The best of all, this treatment contains no morphine, opium, cocaine, salicylic acid or any harmful drug. On the contrary, it is beneficial to the stomach, heart and nerves.

His improved Paw Paw Tonic, for His improved Paw Paw Tonic, for the stomach and nerves, which he has designated as the Elixir of Life, is making scores of converts in this city. It seems to have the power of digesting everything put into the stomach and is a wonderful tonic in building up weak, thed nerves. and Construction Departments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. — A special board has been appointed by Secretary of the Navy Meyer to consider details of the amalgamation of the pay and construction corps of the navy and to prepare a draft of a bill to be submitted to Congress to carry out this plan. The board will hold its first meeting here on November 15. The board will consist of Beekman Winthrop, assistant secretary of the navy, president; Rear Admirals Potter and Walnwright, Captains Smith and Chapin, Pay Director Livingston Hunt, Pay Inspector J. J. Cheatham and Naval Constructors John D. Beuret and Richard H. Robinson. Commander John M. Poyer will act as recorder.

M. Poyer will act as recorder.

Secretary Meyer recommended the combining of the two departments last year and it was at the request of the House naval committee that a draft of a bill carrying out his recommendations be sub-mitted that he appointed the board. The interests of the individuals as well of the improvement of the service will taken into consideration in drafting

NATION'S SOLDIER DEAD ADD TO PRESSURE

Army Projectiles Must Stand Resistance 40 Times as Great as Formerly.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. - In order WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. — In order to make premature explosion of shells used by the army practically an impossibility, the ordnance department has devised a test forty times as severe as the one formesty given. In the future every shell before it is issued for use willbe subjected to a hydraulic pressure of 20,000 pounds to the square inch. While the old test of 500 pounds water pressure to the square inch was almost certain to force water out of any holes which might be in the projectile, the new one should invariably develop any flaw or weak place, according to ordnance experts.

flaw or weak place, according to ordnance experts.

The chief difficulty presented in working out the new method was the perfection of a machine which would stand such a tremendous strain. It is believed, however, that this problem has been solved. The necessity of a higher test was strongly impressed upon army officers by the recent explosion of a shell in a 3-inch field gun at Sparta, Wis., resulting in the death of two militiamen.

The Entire Business Section of Robinson, Utah, Wiped Out by Flames.

MAMMOTH, Wash., Nov. 10.—
Fire, originating in a moving picture house at Robinson, five miles west of here, last midnight, swept over the entire: business of the town and only by rescring to dynamite was a serious conflagration averted. A high wind carried the flames from the burning showhouse to the postoffice and a row of stores adjoining and all efforts to check the blaze by water proved unavailing. After a number of buildings, in the path of the flames had been destroyed by dynamite, the wind suddenly veered in another direction, enabling the volunteer brigade to subdue the fire. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

A Blow to Police Tyranny.

The decinue book has been abolished in the San Francisco police department. It should be abolished everywhere, and with it the system of making arrests without a warrant on mere suspicion. The practice of taking persons into custody without a warrant and holding them in close confinement for an indefinite period has no legal sanction. It is a despotic exercise of authority which the law not only does not authorize, but expressly forbids...

Aithough it is announced that the detinue book has been abolished in San Francisco, it is not so certain that the making of arrests without the formality of preferring a charge or securing a warrant will cease. It has been carried to a scandalous extreme in the past. The announcement has been extorted by an action for damages begun in the Federal District Court against former Chief Martin and his bondsmen by a man who was arrested without a warrant and held in close confinement for seventeen days and then released without being discharged by a magistrate. No charge was filed against him and he was not given a hearing in court. He was not allowed to communicate with his friends or consult a lawyer. The action was dismissed by agreement, the plaintiff being paid a satisfactory sum to drop the case.

This suit brought home to the police officials the fact that they laid themselves liable in civil damages and even prosecution for false imprisonment every time they cast a man into prison without a warrant and denied him a hearing in court or the right to consult an attorney. They have been doing this sort of thing for so long that the custom appeared in their minds to have the sanctity of law. As the abuse continued it grew in dimensions and aggravation. Men would be kidnaped on the streets, held incommunicado and "sweated" in the most brutal manner, and then virtually kicked out of jail after the police got through with them. The only excuse or warrant for this arbitrary exercise of power was an entry in a private memorandum euphemistically called a "detinue book." No public record was made of the proceeding, and the only documentary evidence regarding it was what the police officials chose to enter in their private memorandum, which was usually termed "the Another Side to the Story. small book."

Arrests of this character specifically violated the law in several particulars. They denied persons so made prisoners the right to invoke the writ of habeas corpus, the right of bail, the right to a speedy hearing in court, the right to be informed of the charge on which they are held the right to consult counsel and the right to communicate with relatives and friends regarding their whereabouts, their business affairs or matters looking to their defense or release from confinement. Often men arrested in this fashion were beaten threatened and otherwise maltreated. They had no redress. They had no witnesses. Dungeon walls have no ears and cannot speak and a policeman's oath can never be counted against himself in cases of this kind. The victim is usually either poor or has a bad reputation. He may be so placed that he cannot afford to air the scandal of his arrest before the public. As a rule, when a victim is released he is threatened with dire vengeance if he "makes a fuss." He is warned to keep his mouth shut and not get in the way of the police again.

Police tyranny is not much worse in Russia. It is not only bar barous and brutal, but in plain violation of the law, since it demies the arrested party no less than five fundamental rights guaranteed him by statute and the constitution. The right to invoke the writ of habeas corpus is guaranteed by Federal Constitution and the State Constitution, but petty police despots have not hesitated to set it aside. It is provided in Section 849 of the Penal he be informed of the charge against him and the identity of his accuser, but it is the statutory duty of the magistrate to inform him as to his rights under the law. All these rights are denied by the so-called detinue system, which is a police term for a police custom borrowed from Continental Europe. The late Inspector Byrnes first employed it in New York and the late I. W. Lees put it in practice in San Francisco when he was at the head of the city detective force. The practice spread all over the country, and is now common in nearly every city of consequence in this free republic. Which shows how regard for personal liberty has declined in this country.

Lord Sholto Douglas rises in Seattle to remark that he is not dead in New York. What difference. He has created more stir. by being supposed dead in New York than he ever did by being actually alive anywhere else. In fact, Lord Sholto doesn't coun for much of anything any place. He might as well have let them go on with his funeral in New York.

Perhaps it is not too late to mention the fact that one William Jennings Bryan got a swift kick in the recent election. The Republican clean-up in Nebraska was quite complete.

If the trust magnates are not violating the Sherman anti-trust law, why are they anxious to have it repealed? If they are not in curring its penalties, why do they complain that it is unjust and oppressive?

A Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

At Carlsbad, Texas, the construction of a tuberculosis sanatorium is soon to begin, an appropriation for the purpose having been made by the Legislature. An architect has drawn the plans in accordance with suggestions supplied by the State Board of Health and a special commission appointed to examine similar institutions. The sanatorium will not be a great hospital, but will consist of an administration building and a number of cottages and an infirmary building for treatment and nursing in extreme cases. The system provides for a communal life, but a segregation of patients in their sleeping quarters.

Why is California behind Texas in this matter? This State is rich and its people are not lacking in humane sentiment. We provide hospitals for the insane, institutions for the deaf, dumb and blind, and a home for the feeble-minded. Why are not those afflicted with tuberculosis entitled to equal consideration? The malady is one to excite compassion. The wretched victims are a hurden and a menace to their families and friends. They are objects of aversion to the public because of the unpleasant manifestations of the disease. The ordinary hospital treatment does them no good. They have a chance to recover in sanatoriums such as the one Texas is about to establish.

REALPOLITIK

Sufficeth them, the simple plan, That they should take who have the power, And they should keep who can,"-Wordsworth -Pail Mall Gazette (London).

The Italians are now giving their side of the story in regard to the alleged atrocities at Tripoli. General Caneva's report has the ring of truth. The details he gives are convincing because they accord so completely with the facts of history and what we know of the Turkish and Arab character. He says non-combatants, largely composed of women, treacherously attacked the Italians in the rear, and that ambulances and Red Cross attendants were fired on; the helpless Italian wounded were mutilated and slain. This extract from the statement of the Italian commander explains what happened and the reasons why the Italian soldiers took such bitter vengeance on the Tripolitans:

"But suddenly, in the midst of the hard fighting from the small white Arab houses back of our soldiers, there rushed out infuriated men. Inhuman and horrible things happened. An Italian surgeon was killed by the father of a girl whom he had cured and saved.

"A wounded soldier who had been left alone for a moment by his comrades had his throat cut by a woman who crept stealthily on him through the dead and wounded. There were cruelties unspeakable. Red Cross attendants carrying stretchers to aid the wounded Turks were treacherously slain by the wounded men. Isolated soldiers, surprised in the interior, were disemboweled."

Archibald Forbes, in his recollections of a war correspondent, tells of the inhuman barbarities practiced on the Russian wounded during the last Turco-Russian war. It was the regular practice of the Turks to kill and mutilate every wounded Russian who fell into-Code that when a person is arrested he must be taken before the their hands. When the first grand assault on Plevna was repelled, nearest magistrate and charged with the offense. Not only must the Turks murdered all the Russian wounded and frightfully mutilated the bodies. The heads of the Russian dead were cut off and piled in a great heap. Forbes was an eye-witness of this inhumanity. At Schipka Pass the Russian wounded suffered incredible barbarities at the hands of the Turks.

> The story of the Italian is in keeping with the whole history of Turkish warfare-its ruthlessness, oriental savagery and utter defiance of the amenities of war among civilized nations.

> That the Turks are incomparable liars is notorious. Lying is as legitimate as fighting, according to their view, and it is their invariable rule to charge their adversaries with the barbarities com-

The Merchant and the Early Shopper.

Early shopping for the holiday season is as much to the advantage of the tradesman as to the buyer. It saves the merchant extra expense, embarrassment in handling his trade and the annoyance incident to haste and scrambling, and enables him to give better satisfaction to his patrons and close out his stock more fully. By extending the holiday shopping season over a longer period the volume of special trade is naturally swelled. So the shopper gets better satisfaction and the merchant gets better business. Moreover, the latter is not required to handle in a rush a press of business with temporary and untried help who inevitably make blunders and give unintentional offense to customers.

So early shopping is equally to the advantage of the tradesman and the buyer. If there is any balance either way it is in favor of the merchant, since it is calculated to increase his sales. It is obvious, therefore, that it is to the interest of the merchants to promote and encourage the early shopping movement. The most effective way of doing this is to lay in the holiday stock early and then/advertise for the public to come in and examine goods and prices. Be ready with the goods and let the people know about them, and the shopping will begin. The wise merchant will attract the first and best buyers by judicious advertising, by telling the public what he has to sell. It is the early advertiser that catches the early shopper, and early shopping is a co-ordination between the merchant and the buyer.

recovery of $1717 for costumes used in the musical comedy, "Lady Teazle," in 1994, Lee Shabert was the chief witness yesterday, replacing Miss Lillian Russell, who previously had occupied the witness stand.

Shubert denied Miss Russell's statement that the Shuberts had agreed to pay for her costumes in "Lady Teazle" and sald that when he and his brother Sam suggested that $10,000 was insufficient to reimburse them for the cost of the production, Miss Russell said:

"Why, I shell furnish my own costumes, and that will relieve you of a large item of expense."

The jury was out about fifteen minutes and returned a verdict for the definitions.

Falls From Window

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- While seated on a window sill on the fourth floor of the New York Normal School of Physithe New York Normal School of Physical Education on West Fifty-inith street yesterday, Miss Ada Forman, 19 years old, was seized with an attack of vertigo and fell backward. She turned completely over in the air and crashed through a skylight over the swimming pool in the basement. The girl was found lying in the water, on the edge of the pool.

She is believed to be injured internally, and physicians at Fowler Hospital have little hope for her recovery. Miss Forman came from South Pasadena, Cal., a month ago. She is said

End Hike

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 .- Elza Nelson,

Nanny Lundell and Rose Koehn ended their 207-mile walk from Burlington, route to Long Beach from this city in a Pacific Electric train of two cars.

The second car of the train was entirely empty, but the conductor refused to open it to the passengers. Instead, he threatened to put the recalcitrant women off the car. As his threats did not intimidate them, he stopped the car at Watts to which point the women had a free ride, and telephoned for instructions from the home office. He was ordered to accommodate the passengers, who rode the rest of the way to Long Beach in comfort, paying their fares the latter half of the way.

Ture at one time, and the woman became greatly excited and fought the fire with much energy. The exertions brought on hemorrhage, and caused death, despite medical attention.

Mrs. Brower's husband was many times elected commander of Elisworth. She was prominent in the work of Elisworth Circle and kindred organizations.

has shot ducks from an Antoinette monoplane, and other novel uses of aetoplanes have been made by other air men, but Francis is the first to herd cattle with a flying machine.

Francis is a member of the aviation colony of Cavalry Flat at the Presidio. When he took his machine out of the hangar for a trial flight yesterday he found the field in possession of the post herd of cattle. The herd contains about fifty head, which were scattered over the entire eastern portion of the field.

To be flying over these cattle would have been a hazardous undertaking, as it would have been virtually impossible to land among them without mishap in case anything went wrong with the engine.

FIFTEEN FEET IN AIR.

The idea came to Francis to herd the drove from the field. Leaving the hangar he started to circle around the cattle at a height of about fifteen feet. The strange vaquero of the air was evidently a new spectacle for the cattle, for they at first appeared terror-stricken. They finally began to obey the direction of the pilot of the machine, however, and to come together in a close bunch. Flying behind the herd after getting them bunched, Francis soon had them on the move down the field.

At the west end of the flat the grass is always green because of a marsh.

At the west end of the hat the said is always green because of a marsh. Flying to the right of the herd the aeroplane swung the cattle across the marsh and into the green section of the field. Francis then flew back to the center of the flat and made a landing.

LEGISLATION, PROMISING.

We are well pleased with certain legislation which gives promise of great/advancement, and especially would we mention the suffrage amendment, recently adopted in our State by a good strong vote. Our party has stood for this in pioneer days. We greatly rejoice, also, at the adoption, in the recent election, of the initiative, referendum and recall, enabling the people to secure direct legislation, and we deem that there is nothing more important that could possibly claim the, first use of the great privilege of the initiative than to refer to a vote of the people the prohibition of the intoxicating beverage liquor traffic.

Therefore, be it resolved: First, that the necessary steps be promptly taken to initiate a movement to bring on an election, as early in the coming year as seems wise to the executive committee of the Prohibition party of California.

Second, that the State executive committee of the Prohibition party be requested to meet at an early date to thoroughly canvass the situation, formulate the initiative position to comply with the requirements of State law, fix the date for the election, if found within their power to do so, and arrange such other details as may be necessary for the success of the undertaking.

"As a Man Thinketh" By LILLIAN RUSSELL

CONTEMPORARY of mine recently asked in one of the daily papers: "What do men think of this age of beauty culture? Have they arrived at a point where they love beauty alone?" The woman who wrote this article is a brainy woman and I am satisfied if she tried she could take the other side of the question and make out her case quite as well as she does her contemptuous screed anent-womanly beauty, as she is a trained newspaper writer first of all.

If this woman could see the numberless letters that I receive from women who are afraid that their husbands are not going to love them any more because they have grown old and ugly, her question would be answered without hearing from the men themselves.

I want to explain a few of these points that I know from personal experience and from observation. Men love beauty more than brains. Beauty need not tire them and brains always keeps them up to the mark. Beauty is a passive pleasure and brains an active one. We find occasionally a man who prefers brains to beauty, but he is rare, and I doubt even in his exceptional case if the brainy woman who pays no attention to her outward appearance will win out over the beauty woman when the newness of acquaintance and the charm of her intellectual fascination have fled.

However, one must remember that a woman's beauty does not mean "buying puffs, and curls, and rats, and high heels, and powder, and complexion lotions, and remedies for tan and freckles, and things to put on her hair to make it grow and stuff to use on her hands to make them white." The beautiful women of all time may have done all these things, but they have also

It is not a mark of great brain or great intelligence to neglect your body. A brilliant mind should shine from the light of the eyes; it should add to the velvet of the skin and the softness and brilliancy of the hair. You should find it in the elastic walk, in the splendid poise, quite as much as in the sweetness of the voice and manner or the ability to think logically and carry its premises to a proper conclusion. Every one of the blemishes that are allowed by neglect to come upon the body are reflections of a certain laziness and backwardness of mind.

Remember: True beauty is an incalculable force and should be used by the brainy woman as are all others of her forces, to make the world better.

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., Nov. 10 .- One of the cleverest thieves ever encountered by the police of Valley Stream, L. I., was captured here late last night and after a consultation between the officers was tied to a stake outside the station and shot to death. He was a dog, known as the "black fox." According to common report he has been the agent of a gang of thieving negroes here in the stealing of several thousand chickens, ducks and turkeys at various Long Island towns during the past three months. Policeman Ryan spied the dog last night and watched the animal while night and watched the animal while it went to one chicken yard eight times and came away each time with a fat chicken in its mouth. Tracing the dog's footprints through the soft mud to a near by clump of woods, Ryan found two large gunnysacks filled with forty dead chickens. The owner of the dog had disappeared.

Children.
White proposes to take decisive action in the case of the girl and also in the cases of her younger sister and brothers. The girl was taken in late last night by Mrs. Dora E. Hunt. 501 Santa Clara avenue. The girl said that her father, Joseph Martiolle had thrown a bottle at her and driven her away from his home at 1508 Sixth street.

The girl has been on the streets several times late at night and the attention of the police was called to her case several months ago. She alleged then that her father frequently drove her away from home. She is a preety, darkeyed, well developed girl, born in IIItaly, and coming to America when a baby. The girl's mother was burned to death three weeks ago, her elder brother lies in the Alameda sanatorium with a crushed foot, injured at the pottery works this week, and her father is under sentence of $250 fine for selling liquor without a license. One of the younger children is a baby, barely able to talk.

Miss Margaret Williams Felled
On Broadway Last

While walking down Broadway last evening Miss Margaret Williams of 2145 Market street, was felled to the sidewalk by having a heavy awning in front of Shane's loan office at 867 Breadway fall from its place upon her head. The awning had been insecurely fastened, and the wind tore it from its place just as the young woman was passing underneath.

Miss Williams was taken to a nearby drugstore by her escort. Henry Spear of $22 Union street, where she was attended by Dr. Nealy. Her injuries consisted merely of slight bruises and she was able to proceed to her home, accompanied by MRS. ARMAND S. COHN.

Mr. and Mrs. Armand S. Cohn Laugh at Locks and Detectives

Details of the romantic elopement of Miss Susan Lavery of this city and Armand S. Cohn of San Francisco, son of a wealthy clothing manufacturer of that city, have just come to light with the location of the young people, now Mr. and Mrs. Cohn, bride and groom of a month, in this city. Interwoven in the story are details of an engagement with story are details of an engagement with a charming Los Angeles girl broken by Cohn, violent opposition on the part of the young man's parents to the match detectives on the track of the fleeling lovers, a hair's breadth escape from these pursuers disguised in wigs, and the final solemnizing of the marriage in Seattle on October 6, followed shortly after by the return of the fugitives to Oakland, where they are now living at 2420 Eleventh avenue, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. Hart.

According to the parents of the bride.

According to the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Lavery of 1665 Thirteenth street, the young people have been much in each other's company for been much in each other's company for the past three years. Miss Lavery, who is a pronounced blonde of striking ap-pearance, has for a number of years been in the employ of the California Outfitting Company at Twelfth and Clay streets, where for the past two years she has been head fitter.

DISPARITY IN AGES. She is a number of years older than young Cohn, who was only 20 on September 9, and this difference in age is unber 9, and this difference in age is understood to be one of the causes of opposition to the match on the part of both sets of parents. Cohn's father is Adolph Cohn, manufacturer of women's suits at 884 Market street and living at 1144
O'Farrell street. An engagement with Miss Beatrice Goldbaum of Los Angeles, who for some time has been making her home in San Francisco, was recently announced.

nounced.
The wedding day for young Cohn and Miss Goldbaum was understood to be set, when the groom-to-be and Miss Lavery determined on an elopement. They left this city separately and met in Seattle, where the ceremony was performed. SLEUTHS ON TRAIL.

In the meantime Cohn's parents, through his brother-in-law, Harry Michaels, the attorney, with offices in the Cole building, put detectives on the trail to discover the fugitive and prevent the ceremony from taking place. The chase tended through this state and in Seattle, where the lovers only escaped dis-covery by resorting to wigs, which dis-guised them long enough to get away almost under the very eyes of the detectives. The search was still continued, however, but no trace of the young people was found until young Cohn walked into the office of his brother-in-law and in-formed him of his marriage, the escape by disguise and the other details. It is understood Michaels congratulated Cohn on his successful flight.

Since returning to Oakland the young people have been living with the bride's sister. The Laverys, parents of the bride, have not seen her lowing to their opposition to the match, but expressed willingness to forgive the young people. The parents of Cohn, however, are reported as having declared that they will fight to separate the bride and groom, declaring. as Cohn is not of age the marriage is

When Moore, accompanied by several natives as well as the governor of the province, encountered his first carabao, the young San Franciscan fired his large caliber rifle point blank. The animal immediately fell down, but at once arose again and charged at him.

Moore did not even stop to consider, but following the example of the natives and official dignitaries, clambered to the top of the nearest tree, which happened to be of the date variety. The trail of the animal was taken up and after a bit out following the example of the natives and official dignitaries, clambered to the top of the nearest tree, which happened to be of the date variety. The trail of the animal was taken up and after a bit there was another volley of shots, followed by another exhibition of climbing. This time Moore chose a coccanut tree.

The game was continued for five hours before the huge 1800 pound carabao finally succumbed, and Moore and his companions were photographed sitting astride the animal.

Mrs. Moore remained at Manila and sailed on the Mongolia, but owing to some delay Moore did not arrive in time to connect with the steamer. Being advised by wireless, Mrs. Moore, left the ship at Hong Kong and waited until she was rejoined by her husband.

live to his strange and startling experience he said:

"I was never so surprised and scared in my life as I was today when I discovered that I had been suffering from such a terrible-looking parasite. I have been in bad health for a number of years from what I supposed to be chronic stomach trouble. My appetite seemed to come and go, and what I did eat never seemed to do me any good. I was very nervous—so bad that I couldn't sleep at night or sit still a minute during the day. I was very weak and tired at all time, and never seemed to have any ambition to get out and do things. I was very much constipated and had some trouble with my kidneys and liver. My skin was sailow and my blood seemed thin.

skin was sailow and my blood seemed thin.

"I read in one of the Oakland papers about the wonderful cures that were being effected here by the Lanham physicians with their new system of medical treatment. I decided to come up and see what they could do for me. They told me right away that I had a tapeworm, and put me on a course of treatment that relieved me of it in a few days. I can never tell how grateful I am to these physicians, who certainly know their business." how grateful I am to these physicians, who certainly know their business."

and the capture of the two culpfits with the coin on their persons, caused a sensation shortly after noon today.

Ernest Genther, an employe of Leonhard's resort, Thirty-fourth avenue and Fulton street, went to a local bank, procured $150 in change for use today and tonight and carried the heavy sack of silver to his small cart, placing it under the seat. He was evidently observed by the robbers, who probably believed the sack contained gold. At any rate, he was followed and watched as he proceeded through the business cente. He drove to a machine shop on Beale street near Howard, which he entered to transact some husiness. Seizing their opportunity, the robbers grabbed the sack of coin and ran. They were observed by a citizen, who set up a cry and a long chase through the town section followed, led by Policeman Castro. The officer finally overhauled both culprits, recovered the bag and took them to the Harbor police station. They gave the names of Charles Howard and George Green, and were charged with grand larceny.

FOOTBALL TEAMS LINE UP JUST AS FANS EXPECTED

It is all settled. Yesterday afternoon the students and candidates for the football squads at both Berkeley and Stanford were eased of. their burdens of suspense when the respective coaches gave out the names of the huskies who would line up at Palo Alto tomorrow afternoon to defend the colors in the annual Rugby match.

ODDS STILL 10 TO 6 U. C. COMES IN A WINNER

There is plenty of California money in sight for the intercollegiate game, with very few takers. The odds are now 10 to 6, and the Stanford followers are expected to eat up everything in sight after the rally of last evening at the campus.

Campus.

At Stanford there was much for speculation for reported injuries kept many of the men on the anxious seat, but at Berkeley it was just about as everybody expected.

At both colleges the students are satisfied that the full strength of the Rugby squads will be shown when the two fifteens get on Stanford field.

Palo Alto held the two teams yesterday for a brief spell. California's squads, in charge of Coaches Schaeffer and Cerf, Graduate Manager Farmer land Trainer Volz, went down to try out their new suits and their new shoes on the annual Rugby match.

the turf field. At the request of the California management, the Stanford students stayed away from the field and there wasn't a soul in the enclosure when the Blue and Gold men practiced. For three-quarters of an hour they were on the field, and then they packed their grips and, like the Arabs, "silently stole away."

CARDINAL ROOTERS HOLD FORTH. At 4:30 o'clock the Stanford rooters assembled in the bleachers. They had a double purpose. They wanted to give their team a noisy assurance of their support, and they wanted to know just who the fifteen men were to whom the support is to be given. When the Stanford team and substitutes, clad in immaculate white knickers with cardinal jerseys and stockings, came on the field, there was a wild outburst, of cheers, during the brief period that was spent on the field the only one who did not participate was Louis Cass, the chosen halfback. Cass is suffering from an injured ankie, and, although he could probably have gone through the light practice induiged in without doing his ankle any harm, Coach Presley was taking no chances and let him watch the practice from the side lines.

Some kicking, a little running and

CINCINNATI, Nov. 10.— The National Commission side-stepped the ticker scandal which cropped out during the world's series, by postponling all action until the next meeting which will be held in New York on December 11, the day preceding the annual meeting of the National league.

The commission gave out a statement inviting all those having knowledge of ticket scalping to present their evidence. Ban Johnson failed utterly to make good on his oft-repeated accusations against the New York club and refused to discuss the matter last night. The chances are the whole matter will be allowed to sink gently from sight.

OAKLAND WHEELMEN WILL HAVE CLASSY CARD IN RING

Middleweights will occupy the limelight in local boxing circles for the next few months if the plans of the Oakland Wheelmen's Club matchmaker do not miscarry. Beginning with next Wednesday night, when Joe Thomas and Fritz Holland clash in a tenround go, followed by a bout between George "Knockout" Brown, the sensational knockerout from Chicago, with the winner, and then to cap the whole works with a championship match between Frank Klaus and the man who is returned the winner in the other

Frank Klaus and the man who is returned the bout, is the plan which Mofifit has in mind. It is a rattling good idea and is one which will appeal to the fans of Oakland and surrounding cities. The huskies are the boxers the sports prefer to see in action. They put the right sort of pepper and vim in their mixups and there generally is something doing in the line of slugging, which never fails to please California fight fans.

Tis said that Brown is as much of a demon as Klaus is and as he gained his sobriquet of "Knockout" because of his terrific hitting power, he certainly must have a mule-like kick stowed away in his gloved fist.

Klaus showed us what he could do by his stam-bang style of milling when he battled "Montana Dan" Sullivan to the mat in such short order. He is a veritable bear-cat and as Thomas has already fought the Pittsburger a six round draw, he is anxious to get another whack at him. Thomas realizes that it, is only Klaus who stands in his path to the championship, as he feels that Billy Papke who knocked him out in for the championship, as he feels that Billy Papke who knocked him out in for the championship, as he feels that Billy Papke who knocked him out in for the championship, as he feels that the frought of the championship as he feels that the form of the championship as he feels that the form of the championship as the Kewanee puglist has saved enough of his earnings to enable him to retire.

Dave Mills is optimistic concerning Thomas' future and as the ebon-hued heavyweight has acted as sparring partner for all of the cracks who have visited All White's training camp, his judgment is worth considering.

Students of Piedmont School to Hold Fete When Vegetables Are Grown.

PIEDMONT, Nov. 10 .- The children of the Pledmont school began-gardening Thursday afternoon under the supervision of Prof. Stebbins of the University of California.

The space assigned to the children for garden purposes was divided off into two hundred individual plots, so that each child in the school under the eighth grade has the exclusive right and care of one of three plots. Each child was given a packet sweet peas to plant at the rear of his plot to run up on the hedge back of the school. Bulbs were planted in a line along the front of the gardens bordering on the pavement, and the intervening space will be devoted to the culture of vegetables, lettuce, onlons and radishes being the first to engage the attention of the students. When the vegetables are fully grown the children will have a market-day fete, and the residents of Pledmont will be invited to inspect and buy the products of these miniature farms. eet peas to plant at the rear of his Stanford's oldest veteran, Floyd Brown, will play fullback for the Cardinal. Although this is Brown's fourth appearance, it is five years ago since he first went on the field against California. After making one appearance he was out or college, for a year and since he returned he has been Stanford's fullback ever since. Brown is a clean tackler, a fine kicker and is generally conceded to be, the strongest fullback now playing the game here. ERB WILL BE AT WING.

Additional Line.

Two weeks ago Coach Presley tried the experiment of putting Captain Erb on the wing and shifting Eugene Kern to center three-quarter. The experiment of center three-quarter. The center thas the story of the arrangement for the b officials requesting that the work be done. Meanwhile petitions will probably be circulated for signatures by property owners along Hayward avenue. The operation of cars with the present single track necessitates considerable delay at several points between here and San Leandro, cars having to jwait at switches for those coming in the opposite direction.

MORSE IS BETTER

Attending Physician Holds Out Corn and Oats Seek Lower Railroad Stocks Strengthened Hipe for Complete Recovery.

Henry N. Morse, former sheriff of Alameda county, who was stricken Monday night with a severe attack of appollexy, is reported to be improving nicely by Dr. N. H. Chamberlain, his attending physician. Dr. Chamberlain said that while no marked improvement would probably be observed for several days yet, nevertheless there seemed little likelihood of the present attack proving a ihood of the present attack proving a latal one, in spite of Morse's advanced age. The only danger lies in a succeed-ing stroke occurring before the patient has gained sufficient strength, following federal grand jury begins operations and summons witnesses the belief exists there is nothing to be feared.

BEARS DEPRESS | COURT'S DECISION

Sentiment among corn trade is mixed. A number of the shipping houses are bullish and the speculators bearish. Neither side was able to make much headway resterday, although the bulls had the best of it in. December, while the bears were ahead in May and July at the close. It is claimed by some of the bulls that the time to buy corn will be later in the season, when the full effect of the movement of new corn is on. Some of the commission houses which have been bullish are bearish and advocate sales of May on any further bulge above the present level, while many of the old-time bulls can see nothing in selling short at these prices.

TWO LIVES BLOTTED OUT IN DRY DOCK EXPLOSION

Hunter's Point Scene of Disaster in Which William Keegan and Van Auken Are Hurled to Death

Iron Works last night. While the exact cause of the explosion is a mystery the opinion of the survivors is that gas from the oli-burning, engines of the pumping plant of the dock accumulated within a tunnel connecting the power-house with the dock and that this was set affroetitler by an electric spark or from a match struck by one of the men whose bodies are still within the dock.

The explosion took place shortly before 5 o'clock. Two dock laborers, William Keggan of 21s. Fifth avenue south and Van Auken of 508 Eighth avenue, were working directly over the manhole connecting the dock with the pumping-station. Dock Superintendent John Hubacher and a laborer, Manuel Teveras, were at the other end of the dock. The Mina Brea was being painted following her trip from South America, which ended at this port a few days ago.

TWO LIVES BLOTTED OUT According to the survivors, there was a sudden flash of flame from the end of the dock where Keegan and Auken were working. The heavy manhole cover over the end of the tunnel from the power-house was thrown into the air, and such was the force of the explosion the piece of iron, which must weigh at least half a ton, was cast upon the wharf, fully 100 feet from its resting place.

At the same time the windows of the power-house were blown out, pieces of the glass being thrown upon the dock of the Mina Brea. Men working on the decks of the ship were thrown to the

They fell to the floor of the dock and beat out the flames which had attacked their clothing; then, as the desire for life grew within them, they groped their way up the steps leading to the wharf and fell at the top unconscious.

In the meantime the flames had selzed upon the timbers which shored up the Mina Brea and the destruction of the vessel was threatened. Chief Officer Wright, who had been thrown to the deck by the explosion, jumped to his feet and ordered the crew of the vessel to man the fire pumps. Orders were issued by Wright to open the gates which admitted water to the dock, but it was seen that the explosion had already was seen that the explosion had already done that work, for the water was

The flames were quickly subdued, and attention was then paid to the men on the dock side. Fireman Charles Kottinger of the pumping station, who had escaped unscathed in the infernot flames which surrounded him, notified the Potrero Hospital of the disned the Fotrero Hospital of the dis-nester and an ambulance was dispatched to the dock in short order. In the mean-time a call had been sent to fire head-quarters and the fireboat Dennis T. Sull-yan was hurried to the scene. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.— The convention of the Nouthern California members of the National League for Medical Freedom opened yesterday afternoon in the ball room of the Palace hotel, and was called to order by the chairman, Barclay Henley. The chief speaker was Senator—John D. Works, who stated among other things that the only warfare of the league was against an association of doctors in this country in attempting to legislate away the liberty that belongs to every American citizen under the constitution.

The following delegates were introduced and spoke briefly:
Reynold B. Blight and E. W. Dickle from the southern part of the State; J. P. Dargitz from Sacramento; Herbert C. Eustace from San Jose, H. T. Sheriff of Oakland, W. H. Stenger and Mrs. Newton Cleveland of Eerkeley, Miss Cora A. May of, San Jose, Judgo F. B. Brown of San Jose and Mrs. Rose Chaddeck of Fresno.

Resolutions against the passage of "unjust and un-American legislation" were then adopted.
